Jack and Lora,

In this case one would look to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. Aka clean water act as amended by OPA 90.

Since the MCHM is not listed as a CWA hazardous substance regs concerning storage would make sense but would not apply.

MCHM does not appear on the Clean Air Act list or the CERCLA/SARA list and while sounds reasonable still do not apply.

Lora,

I was looking on CDCs web site and couldn't find planning and preparedness in their list of business practices. I know it's there I just couldn't find it. The new buzz phrase is "All Hazard Planning".
